

TUMOR OF FOUR YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lindley, Ind. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed a cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They said that only an operation could help me. I am very glad that I followed a friend's advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it has made me a strong and well woman, and I shall recommend it as long as I live." — Mrs. MAY FRIZ, Lindley, Ind.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears with the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and to every sick woman.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Annual Congress of the Playground Association of America.

Pittsburg, May 10.—The annual congress of the Playground association of America began here tonight with representatives present from about forty cities.

Mayor Magee, on behalf of Pittsburg, welcomed the delegates to the city, and Benish Kennard, president of the Pittsburg Playground association, spoke for the local organization.

President Taft sent a letter to the congress which was read at the meeting tonight.

Animals as Seismometers.

Animals have again, in Sicily and Calabria, shown that they know more about coming earthquakes than men know. An official incident was recorded by his dog on the eve of the disaster. The animal would stay quiet for a moment, and his barking was such a nuisance that his master beat the wise brute. Their night was so restless that the man gave up all hope of sleep, and he and the dog left home soon after 4:30 a. m. As soon as the dog was out of doors he ran away and the master followed him. This both were well outside the town when the crash came, and the man acknowledged that he owes his escape from probable death to his good, unruly dog.

IN AND ABOUT WESTERLY

Metropolitan Divorce of Local Interest—Letter Carriers Going to Norwich Celebration—Today's Ball Game

Mrs. Etta Hamilton Martin of Brooklyn is defendant in divorce proceedings brought by her husband, Edward E. Martin, a wealthy commission merchant. Six co-respondents are named. She is daughter of Rev. Jay Benson Hamilton, formerly pastor of Grace Methodist church, Westerly.

Local Laconics.

There was another session of the republican town committee Tuesday evening.

Evangelist Lindsay is preaching to large congregations at the People's mission.

Dwight Stillman has returned to Westerly from Florida, where he has spent the winter.

The Westerly letter carriers have been invited to parade in Norwich July 6, and will probably accept.

The Westerly and Woonsocket high school baseball teams will play a game at Riverside park this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Milner and Edwin Milner of Moosup and Harry R. Milner of New York, are guests of William Seaton.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Stratford.—One of the young men who got on the term list in the third grade, Franklin school, had the strange name of Georgeshield. That would make a good college yell.

Middletown.—It was definitely decided by the members of the Board of the general committee that there will be no celebration of the 125th anniversary of the incorporation of the city.

Bridgeport.—Today (Wednesday) several thousand citizens of Bridgeport will participate in the dedication of the handsome new hall and gymnasium building which has erected in Hallett street.

Wallingford.—The clerks in the local markets and grocery stores are preparing a petition to close Thursday afternoons this summer instead of Tuesday afternoons, as has been the custom.

The petition will call for the closing of the stores from June to September.

Waterbury.—The Rev. James M. Gleason, rector of St. Patrick's parish, Sunday declared as the last mass at his church, that he was to make every effort within his power to keep any more saloons from being established in Waterbury, where there are now one-third of the total number of the saloons of the city.

A remarkable object lesson concerning the American merchant marine is that amid the international character of the vessels seen in the harbor of Bridgeport, where there are the Slovak, German, Italian, Belgian, Danish, Norwegian, Russian, etc., a ship flying the American flag is never seen, except on an occasional private yacht.

A national girls' college has been established in Peking for the purpose of training teachers. Examinations took place in all the Chinese provinces, and only those who were able to pass these examinations were eligible to enter this institution.

Commencing today (Wednesday) a special car will make daily trips to Pleasant View, leaving here at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Before Judge N. B. Lewis of the Second district court, Stephen Guarino of Peacedale was sentenced to six months in the Providence county jail, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs for assault on Antonio Mottola, and for carrying a concealed weapon.

The census bureau has just issued a volume on mortality statistics, and especially with reference to the death rate in the various states from tuberculosis. The volume is of great interest at this time, in view of the meeting of the Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, which is to be held in Washington this week. The statistics were gathered during the year 1907 from the reports of officials of the various states having in charge the registration of births and deaths.

It is estimated that the population of Connecticut for the year 1907 was 1,021,932. New Haven heads the list with 123,427. Hartford is next with 96,484, and Bridgeport is a good third with 86,457. Waterbury is estimated at 63,696. The population of other cities in the state is given as follows: Ansonia 14,218, Bristol 13,225, Danbury 19,474, Greenwich 13,600, Manchester 12,326, Meriden 20,984, Middletown 19,682, Naugatuck 15,568, New Britain 24,641, New London 20,201, Norwalk 21,466, Norwich 25,750, Stamford 21,026, Stonington 9,488, Torrington 16,925, Vernon 8,257, Wallingford 10,922, and Willimantic 10,209.

The rural population is given by counties, as follows: Fairfield county 15,878, and Windham county 37,842. The death rate in the state during the year is given as 17.013 per 100,000, and of this far the largest percentage of any single disease is from tuberculosis of the lungs, the estimated average being 149.3 per 100,000. Middletown has the largest percentage of deaths from tuberculosis of any of the cities; the average being 256.3, which is lower than the rate for any previous year. Danbury, on the other hand, showed a large increase of deaths from tuberculosis, the average being 246.5. Of the Connecticut cities Manchester shows the lowest mortality from tuberculosis, the average being 81.5. Bridgeport 193.9, New Britain 168.9, New Haven 190.4, and Waterbury 116.2.

For the country districts, Windham county shows the lowest death rate from tuberculosis with 76.5, and New London county the largest with 126.1. Other counties were given as follows: Fairfield county 134.7, Hartford 112.18, Litchfield 136.5, New Haven 124.5, Middlesex county 90.7, and Tolland county 100.8.

The report closes with table giving the estimated population for 1909 and the names of the officials of the various cities that have furnished the information for the report to the census bureau. The population of the state is given as 1,054,366, and the following is the estimated population for the cities: Ansonia 14,746, Bridgeport 96,913, Bristol 11,677, Danbury 19,474, Greenwich 14,098, Hartford 102,308, Manchester 12,742, Meriden 21,539, Middletown 19,425, Naugatuck 14,431, New Britain 26,479, New Haven 127,827, New London 20,859, Norwalk 21,898, Norwich 26,068, Stamford 21,686, Stonington 9,709, Torrington 15,217, Vernon 8,191, Wallingford 11,176, Waterbury 67,282, and Willimantic 10,231.

CHILDREN'S GARDENS.

How One Improvement Society Secures Beautifying of Home Grounds.

More than ordinary enthusiasm has been shown by the children of South Waterbury this spring in the garden-making idea which originated with the South Waterbury Improvement society.

The improvement society has made an offer for the past three or more years to suitably reward the school children who will raise the best flower gardens during the summer.

Orders for the seeds are taken from the children by the teachers in the schools, and the seeds are sent for by Edward L. Tyrrell of the improvement society. The seeds are then sold to the children for two cents a package.

They choose their own kind of flowers, there being probably about a dozen varieties from which to make a selection. There has been an increase of about $2 this year in the sale of seeds over that of last year, showing that the garden idea is greeted with much enthusiasm.

Most of the seeds have already been planted and the little shoots are now being cared for by the young gardeners. There will probably be two inspection tours, the first by the committee which will be appointed later. The first tour will be taken in the middle of the summer and the other inspection will be made probably early in the fall, after school has begun again.

Prizes offered for the gardens by the improvement society are as follows: First prize, $6; second, $3; third, $2; fourth, $1. Two $1 prizes are offered for good work, also four seventy-five cent prizes and six fifty-cent prizes.

These prizes will be awarded in the presence of all the school children and their teachers and a delegation from the improvement society some day in the fall or winter.

Shirtwaist Factory at Hartford.

Alien Waiters in England.

"When I was in London lately, an English friend with whom I was dining, at Claridge's, told me that there were no less than 80,000 foreigners, mostly Germans and Frenchmen, employed in the hotels and restaurants of Great Britain," said George A. Hilbert of St. Louis, at Hotel Kernan.

"My friend, an ardent patriot, thought it a great wrong that these aliens should be holding good positions, while thousands of his own countrymen were out of work and on the verge of starvation. Furthermore, this great horde of foreign employees were composed of men who had been through a rigid military training, and who, in the event of war, would be a powerful help to their native government. The only remedy he could suggest was for the British public to cease giving tips to any waiter who did not speak English as his mother tongue. This would drive them home quickly enough. He conceded that the Germans and the French were superior in this line of service, and that the problem of supplying their places would be difficult."—Baltimore, American.
